I'm an Elburn resident with a background in property management, home renovation and house flipping.

I've been the buyer many times, purchasing distressed houses, overseeing contractors, and transforming properties into highly sought-after homes.

My passion for real estate started years ago when I purchased my first flip. One turned into two, and before long, I found myself managing several self-owned single-family rentals. A career in real estate was the only next logical step because this business is what I'd grown to love.

Prior to a career in real estate, I worked in the customer service business for a major corporation for over a decade, supporting over 100 managers nationwide. I had a track record of providing exceptional customer service and always meeting our client's needs. That continues to be the case today as a Realtor with @properties - St. Charles, IL.

I was born and raised in Aurora but have called Elburn home for the past 11 years. It is there that I spend time with my husband Brandon and two daughters. I love an early morning Crossfit workout, biking the local trails with my family, and attending my daughter's softball games. We are supporters of Gigis Playhouse™ Down Syndrome Achievement Centers and Compassion International, Inc.

*Home selling and buying can be daunting and often overwhelming.
Let me walk you through each step and we'll even have some fun in the process!*
